

Weed Remover

Cinnamon oil is a champion weed killer, and scientists even recommend it as a promising alternative to chemical herbicides. We love the smell, too!

Yields approximately 1 quart

1 quart white vinegar
(10–20 percent acetic acid)

1 ounce orange essential oil

½ ounce cinnamon essential oil

1. Mix together in a large spray bottle.
2. Spray weeds directly with solution in the heat of the day, in direct sunlight, preferably when temperatures are above 70°F. The solution works best when the soil is dry, so don't apply it the day rain is forecasted.
3. Keep pets off of sprayed areas until dry, as solution can be irritating to the skin when it's wet.
