

Pet Wipes

Colloidal silver has potent antiseptic properties, which is why many veterinarians use silver wound dressings and solutions to address a variety of external ailments, including burns, skin wounds, and skin infections. And it's face-friendly, so we love it to clean out gunky ears and around the eyes. Use these colloidal silver-based wipes on paws, ears, fur, butt, or anywhere that needs cleaning.

1 cup water

3 tablespoons colloidal silver

1 tablespoon unscented castile soap

2 tablespoons coconut oil
(above 76°F to liquefy)

Optional: 5 drops lavender essential oil

1 roll thick paper towels

1. Combine all liquid ingredients in a bowl or large measuring cup and whisk.
2. Place the paper towels, without cardboard center, in a large glass jar or a clean, recycled wipes container.
3. Pour the liquid over the paper towels to saturate.
4. Tear off one paper towel as needed.
5. Keep container tightly closed.
